

Mental health first aid is a thoroughly evaluated, evidence informed, skills development course for community members

WHAT IS MENTAL HEALTH FIRST AID?

We all experience life's ups and downs.

Mental Health First Aid (MHFA) is a programme that helps you know how to deal with challenging life situations. It also teaches you how to support others who are going through a difficult time.

Using real life situations, trained instructors show you how to listen without judgement and support and encourage people to seek professional help if needed.

WHAT WILL YOU LEARN.....

You will learn a lifelong skill that will make a positive difference to you and others.

The MHFA program workshops we provide communities are:

- Standard MHFA for all communities
- Whānau MHFA for our Māori community
- Pasifika MHFA for our Pacific community

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

The course is open to any adult (18 years and over) interested in attending Mental Health First Aid (MHFA).

HOW IS THIS MENTAL HEALTH FIRST AID COURSE DIFFERENT?

This course has been developed over more than 15 years by a combination of university researchers, professionals and people with lived experience of mental distress and illness in Australia and New Zealand. It is an accredited, international programme and has been presented to over 2 million participants in more than 25 countries. It is adapted under licence in New Zealand to reflect New Zealand cultures, services and statistics.

COURSE FORMAT

The MHFA workshops run across either 2 days (6 hours each day) or 3 days (4 hours each day). The benefit of these workshops is that there is a chance between sessions to reflect on what you have learned or experienced each day. There is also the opportunity to ask questions and/or confirm your understanding from what you have learned during a previous session.
